Another way to help narrow the list of careers when you're searching or browsing, is to keep your Favourite clusters updated. You can click through and view the different career clusters to expand your knowledge and interest in different fields.

Experiences & credentials

Consider the Experiences & credentials section a timeline of your life and achievements. You can add things you've done both in and out of school, like:

Experiences: Trips you've taken, awards you've won, volunteer opportunities you've completed, or even a hobby like a dance performance or MVP of a sports team.

Credentials: Proof of your hard work, like certification through a health and safety course, a course in IT and software, or an academic achievement.

Skills

Are you great at teamwork, drawing, or coding? You can add your skills here and rate how good you are at them.

Interests

This is the place to list what you love! Whether it's soccer, drama, or technology, adding your interests helps Xello learn more about you.

Keep your profile updated

Building out and keeping your About Me profile updated isn't just for fun, it'll also help in other ways:

Resume Builder: Everything you add, such as your skills and experiences, can be turned into a professional resume when you want to find a job.

Lessons: Some Lessons in Xello have prerequisites, such as completing Matchmaker, adding skills and interests, or adding to the experiences timeline.

See your growth: As you grow, your interests, skills, and experiences will change. Use your About Me page to help visualize your growth and make sure it always reflects the real you.
