

Discussing world languages and my future

Length:
15-20 minutes

About this lesson

To help students understand the importance that world languages can play in their future, students will watch a video about the relevance of the subject and will engage in a class discussion that will allow them to understand how world languages connect to their lives regardless of what their future holds.

Objectives

By the end of this lesson, students will

- Be able to list real-life connections in world languages
- Understand how the subject can be relevant in different contexts

Inquiry prompt

- Why is studying world languages relevant to my future?

Before you begin

1. Ensure that you are able to play the World languages and your future success video, also available in Spanish/French

Teaching strategies

- 1 Have students consider the following question: How is studying world languages relevant to my future? Allow students five minutes to write, and have them keep their responses.
- 2 As a class, brainstorm some ways that world languages are connected to everyday life. Take notes to remind students of their responses.
- 3 Show students the World languages and your future success video. This video is also available in Spanish. Have them consider the following discussion questions as they watch:
 - What are some careers that are connected to world languages?
 - Did any of the careers surprise you? Why or why not?
 - Even if a person isn't interested in pursuing world languages as part of their career, why is it important to learn the subject?
- 4 When the video is over, spend five minutes discussing it as a class, using the discussion questions above as a guide.
- 5 Have students return to their responses to the question at the beginning of class. Give students a few minutes to update their answers. Then discuss with students – did they have anything to add to their answers? Why or why not? Be sure to update class notes as well.
